A Beacon of hope

My heart goes out to you in your unspeakable grief

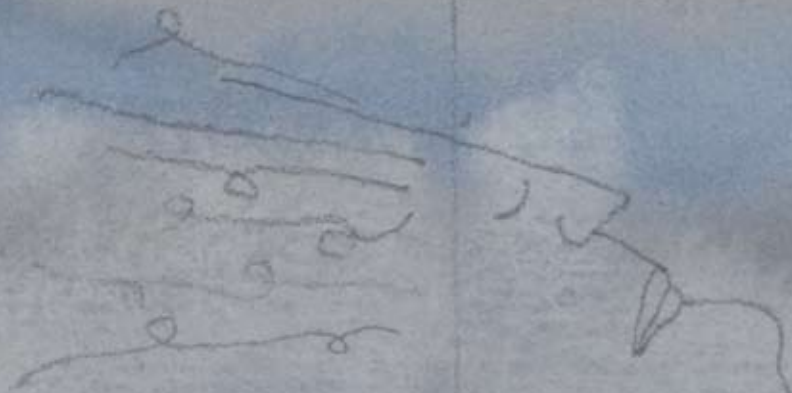

What can one do with unbearable loss?

How can one turn tragedy into a healing gift to the world?

Be gentle with yourself take all the time you need

then gather all your tears and undying love

A watercolor illustration of a person standing on the peak of a mountain. The mountain is rendered in shades of light brown and tan, with soft, blended edges. The sky is a mix of light and medium blue washes, suggesting a clear or slightly hazy day. The person is a simple line drawing, standing with arms slightly out, looking towards the right. The overall style is soft and artistic.

Summon your courage and strength

A watercolor background featuring a series of vertical, irregular washes in shades of teal and light brown, set against a pale, textured paper. The washes are layered and blended, creating a soft, ethereal effect.

Find a cause which speaks to your soul

Love to all

And honors the memory in your heart

Power all the energy of your grief into relieving the suffering of others

there is no greater memorial to your love and your loss

Let this death not be in vain. Create a shining beacon of hope for all to see
